GENERAL INFORMATION

than 800 public sector employers and their employees are covered by VRS retirement benefits. All VRS benefits are established and modified by the Virginia General Assembly through the legislative process.

VRS has adopted the following vision statement to guide the agency in its role as steward of the funds it administers:

To be the trusted leader in the delivery of benefits and services to those we serve.

VRS RETIREMENT SYSTEMS

Participation in VRS is a condition of employment for eligible members. The Code of Virginia determines the benefits available to employees. Employees belong to one of the following retirement systems:

- Virginia Retirement System (VRS) – State employees, including employees of institutions of higher education; public school board employees, including teachers, administrators, supervisors, managers, nurses and clerical personnel; and political subdivision employees, including employees of local governments and other entities that choose to join VRS. (Other employees of public school boards, including cafeteria workers, bus drivers or maintenance workers, are included in the political subdivision group);
- State Police Officers' Retirement System (SPORS) – Virginia state police officers;
- Virginia Law Officers' Retirement System (VaLORS) – Capital police officers, campus police officers, conservation police officers of the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, ABC special agents, marine resources officers, state correctional officers, state juvenile correctional officers, state parole officers and commercial vehicle enforcement officers employed by the Virginia Department of State Police;
- Judicial Retirement System (JRS) – Justice or judge of a court of record of the Commonwealth of Virginia, judge of a district court of the Commonwealth of Virginia other than a substitute judge, Commissioner of the State Corporation Commission or the Virginia Workers' Compensation Commission.

In addition, certain employees may elect an Optional Retirement Plan (ORP). Political appointees (ORPPA), school superintendents (ORPSS) and qualified employees of Virginia's public colleges and universities (ORPHE) may choose between an ORP and the applicable VRS retirement plan.

EMPLOYER RESOURCES

VRS provides a variety of resources for employers, including the agency website, myVRS Navigator and employer-focused publications. Employer representatives must have specific authorization to access sensitive member data, such as Social Security numbers.

GENERAL INFORMATION

VRS WEBSITE

The VRS website (www.varetire.org) is a resource for member benefit information. All official VRS publications and forms, as well as general information and news updates are posted to the website.

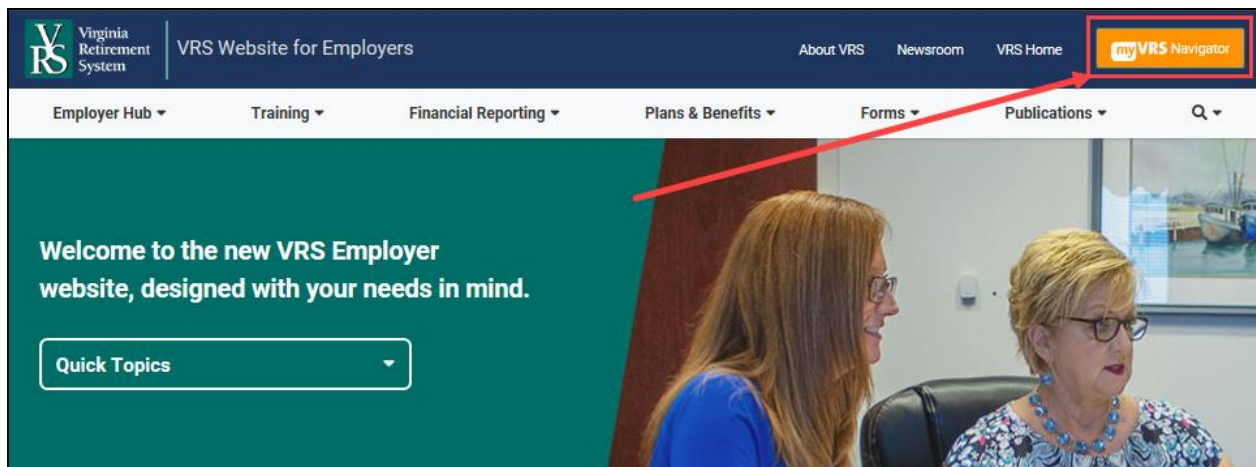

The VRS employer website (<https://employers.varetire.org>) provides administrative resources including the Employer Hub, education and training, financial reporting and VRS plans and benefit information to assist with member counseling. Employers are encouraged to consult the site often for current news, legislative and policy actions and upcoming training opportunities.

MYVRS NAVIGATOR

myVRS Navigator is the online tool that employers use to maintain employee records. myVRS Navigator allows employers to:

- View their organization's consolidated VRS information;
- Enroll new members;
- Make a change for a group of employees, such as a salary change, with a single entry;
- Certify and manage the purchase of prior service credit;
- Confirm the contributions owed and schedule payments (myVRS Navigator calculates the contributions based on employer submitted data);
- View reports and download summaries of data;
- Send and receive secure messages with VRS staff;
- Receive alerts and notifications that affect the organization or employees.

myVRS Navigator is easily accessible on the VRS employer website. Select the myVRS Navigator button at the top right of the homepage.

GENERAL INFORMATION

To protect employee data, each employee who accesses myVRS Navigator must have an authorized role within the system. Role-based security enables employers to manage access to myVRS Navigator and VRS data based on the work employees perform. Roles define the data a person can view, create and update.

Employers authorize employees to access VRS data and systems and assign the appropriate roles for each employee. First, each employer must complete an Authorization of Administrative Contacts (VRS-67A) to designate the roles of Primary Administrative Authority, VRS Administrator and Security Administrator. VRS sets up these three contacts in myVRS Navigator. If there is a change to any of these contacts, the employer must submit a new VRS-67A, and VRS will make the changes. Each new form overwrites the contacts designated on the previous form, so it is important to fill out the form completely.

Once a Security Administrator is established, he sets up and maintains all other contact types in myVRS Navigator. Contact types include Contact, User Contact and Employer Business Partner. Contacts do not have access to myVRS Navigator, but may discuss employee information when calling into VRS. User Contacts have access to myVRS Navigator and are assigned a role by the Security Administrator. See the employer roles list below.

All User Contacts have access to the dashboard and consolidated views in myVRS Navigator; however, the information shown on each differs according to the role(s) assigned to an individual. A business partner must submit a Business Partner Management Authorization of Administrative Contacts (VRS-68BP) to VRS before becoming an Employer Business Partner. Contact VRS to obtain the form. Once established, the Employer Business Partner may have access to certain information in myVRS Navigator.

For step-by-step instructions on how to set up contact types, view the myVRS Navigator Training - Managing Contacts Course located in VRS University. A list of roles appears below. For more information on the types of information each role can access, view the Employer Roles and myVRS Navigator Security Access Job Aid in VRS University.

In addition, an employer may run essential reports, access plan-specific information and view regulatory plan updates.

Note: State agencies that report using Commonwealth's Integrated Personnel and Payroll System (CIPPS) do not use EZLink to submit payments, but they can view employee records.

To request a User ID, the employer must complete the EZLink Access Form in the Forms section of the DCP Resource Center for VRS Employers at www.varetirement.org/dcpemployer.html.

Certain forms are only available through myVRS Navigator and are generated as needed.

EMPLOYER REPRESENTATIVES

The Employer Representatives unit at VRS focuses on the administrative needs of employers who are providing one or more VRS benefits to employees. Each employer has access to a representative who specializes in issues unique to each of the three types of VRS employers: state agencies, school divisions and political subdivisions. Employer representatives offer professional and technical assistance regarding benefit coverage and plan design, and are available for consultation by phone, email or site visits.

Employer representatives also host forums across the state, inviting employers to learn about new VRS initiatives, provide feedback and network with peers. VRS third-party administrators for optional benefit programs often participate in these forums.

In addition, employer representatives travel to meet with governing bodies that are considering joining VRS or changing their employee benefit plans. The representatives provide one-on-one counseling for employers about actuarial studies, employer contribution rates, tax laws, legal requirements and legislative changes.

For employer representative contact information, see the Communicating with VRS section of this chapter.

DATA REQUESTS

Participating employers may request specially created reports of VRS information regarding their employees and/or retirees that aren't available through myVRS Navigator. VRS has established guidelines to ensure that the release of such data is consistent, secure and does not violate restrictions on the disclosure of information. Requests are handled on a case-by-case basis. Employer representatives are available to assist with creating specific data requests.

An internal or externally hired auditor of any agency or political subdivision that is a participating employer with VRS may also request data. However, VRS must verify the identity and authorization of the auditor making the request. The chief administrative officer, chief financial officer or chief human resource officer of the agency or political subdivision may provide verification by phone or by letter. The request should identify the auditor and request the data be sent directly to the auditor.
